Brief report

The Department of Economics organized an Add-on Course titled "Basics of Competitive Exams" from August 6th to August 26th, 2022. The primary aim was to equip 100 students from B.com, BMS, and BA with essential skills and knowledge required for various competitive examinations.

Course Overview:

The course was structured to cover a wide range of topics essential for competitive exam preparation. The curriculum included an introduction to various competitive exams, understanding exam patterns, time management strategies, problem-solving skills, and practical sessions involving mock tests and practice exams.

Outcomes:

- Enhanced Knowledge: Participants gained a comprehensive understanding of the structure and requirements of competitive exams.
- Improved Skills: Students developed effective time management, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills crucial for exam success.
- Increased Confidence: The course instilled confidence and motivation among students aspiring to excel in competitive examinations.

Conclusion:

Bhaskar Waman Thakur College of Science.
Yashvant Keshav Patil College of Commerce
Vidhya Dayanand Patil College of Arts.
(VIVA College)
(Affiliated to University of Mumbai)

The Add-on Course on Basics of Competitive Exams was a resounding success. It provided valuable insights and practical skills to the participants, preparing them for the challenges of competitive exams. The active engagement of students and positive feedback indicate the effectiveness of the course in achieving its objectives.

The Department of Economics expresses gratitude to all faculty members, and students for their active participation and contribution to the success of this program.

Brief report

In the academic year 2022-23 Department of Information technology- Computer Science-Data science introduced certificate courses for the students in addition to the curriculum. for assessment of "Data Science (Basic Module)"

Assessment is in 2 mode. One is Assignments which Students have to Solve on their own machine and Submit in Google Classroom and Another is Online exam through Google Form

- On 15th May 2023, students took an examination on the first unit of Basic Data Science.
- On 16th May 2023, students sat for another examination covering the second unit of Basic Data Science.
- Finally, on 17th May 2023, students completed the third and final unit of Basic Data Science. Overall, the three-day series of examinations provided valuable feedback regarding student comprehension levels across different areas within Basic Data Science. While many students excelled at certain aspects, there is room for improvement in others.

Brief report of programme

The "Resume Building" short-term course was conducted to equip degree college students with the necessary skills and knowledge to create effective and impactful resumes. The course aimed to enhance students' understanding of resume writing, formatting, and tailoring to specific job roles or industries. This report assesses the effectiveness and outcomes of the course.

The "Resume Building" short-term course was highly effective as Talent acquisition manager ms Bobby Rathore from the company called "Dream Sports" personally came and conducted one to one interview sessions with the students.

And also conducted some group discussion, debates and interactive sessions. The success of this course underscores the importance of practical and skill-based learning in preparing students for their professional careers.

DEPARTMENT OF FILM, TELEVISION AND NEW MEDIA PRODUCTION ADD ON COURSE ASSESSMENT Feb-2023

FILM APPRECIATION-I

In the film appreciation-I add-on course, the Discussion method was used for assessing our understanding and appreciation of films. This method, rooted in pedagogical theories such as constructivism and social constructivism, fosters an environment where knowledge is actively built through collaborative exchanges.

Through the lens of constructivism, Student discussions are seen as a means to construct new understanding by linking new information to existing knowledge. In our discussions, we not only share our perspectives but also draw connections between the films we study and our personal experiences or other works of art. This process of connecting ideas helps Teachers and Students deepen understanding and appreciation of the cinematic art form.

Furthermore, the discussion method aligns with social constructivism, which emphasizes the importance of social interaction in learning.

In our discussions, we engage in dialogue with our peers and the teacher, presenting diverse viewpoints and challenging each other's assumptions. This collaborative exchange not only enhances our critical thinking skills but also helps us develop a richer, more nuanced understanding of the films we analyze.

Overall, the discussion method in our film appreciation course served as a dynamic platform for exploring, analyzing, and interpreting films, ultimately enriching our cinematic literacy and appreciation.

Brief report

The Human Rights (Basic Concept) course aimed to equip students with a profound understanding of human rights principles and their relevance in contemporary society. The course objectives included grasping the essence of human rights, comprehending the noble policies of the Indian Constitution, and recognizing the interplay between fundamental rights and constitutional guidelines. Additionally, students were expected to appreciate the significance of human rights in daily life, fostering a vision for a welfare state and providing justice to marginalized sections.

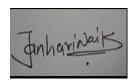

The assessment methodology comprised MCQ-type papers and practical applications through presentations and dissertations. The MCQ papers, consisting of 50 questions with a total of 100 marks, evaluated students' understanding of theoretical concepts, legal frameworks, and case studies related to human rights. The presentations and dissertations, covering topics such as social justice, equality, and freedom of speech, assessed critical thinking and research skills.

Overall, the assessment process offered a comprehensive evaluation of students' knowledge, analytical capabilities, and communication skills in the field of human rights. The successful completion of the course by all 100 students reflects their commitment to promoting human rights principles. The assessments not only measured academic achievement but also nurtured critical thinking and advocacy skills necessary for addressing global human rights issues. With their acquired knowledge and skills, students are now poised to serve as informed advocates for human rights in their respective fields and communities.

Brief Assesment report of Certificate Course (in 250 -300 words)	This program shall emphasize communicative competence in Marathi listening, speaking, and understanding skills.
	Understand and use familiar everyday expressions and very simple sentence which relate to concrete needs. Proficiency in script, elementary language structures and basic communication skills.

	Even though we use Marathi language in daily life, it is very important to have knowledge of English language in educational level and further in workplace. This course was started with this goal in mind. Through this course, not only the knowledge of the students about the language was revised, but also they were properly guided about their mistakes, fears and misunderstandings about the language. Marathi language is the mother tongue of many of these students. Many of these students have learned through English and many of them are from Marathi families, but because of their education in English, writing in pure Marathi and reading Marathi fluently is a challenge for many students. But by understanding their problems, special emphasis was given on how to make them proficient in Marathi language as well. For this they were given some assignments which were very important to improve their grammar and language. In this course, the children were given the necessary knowledge to use the language in daily life as well as in practice. Efforts were also made at various levels to make them more fond of the language. In this course students can get valuable knowledge about Marathi language, it it very usfull for their academic as well as personal growth.
